

GREEN CENTURY FUNDS

Green Century^o believes that even corporate sustainability leaders have room for improvement, which is why we pressure over 100 companies every year to adopt stronger environmental practices and policies throughout their operations and supply chains.

Shareholder Advocacy

The shareholder advocacy programs of many mutual fund companies consist solely of proxy voting or analyst conversations. Not Green Century.

While Green Century votes its proxies to support more sustainable corporate practices and reduce potential investment risks, Green Century's in-depth shareholder advocacy program goes well beyond proxy voting to deliver tangible results. Green Century pressures companies to adopt environmentally sustainable policies through direct engagement, global collaborations, and as a leader of investor groups.

Every year, Green Century also files numerous shareholder proposals, which are formal requests that a company take a specific action based on a business case. In 2021, Green Century:

- Filed more climate proposals than any other investment firm.
- Engaged more than 100 companies on a variety of issues, including tropical forest protection, clean energy, plastic pollution, and preserving biodiversity.

- Secured the highest vote of the season on any ESG shareholder proposal and the highest vote ever recorded for a deforestation shareholder proposal: an unprecedented 98.9% vote in favor of Green Century's proposal with the global grain trader Bunge Limited (Bunge).*

Green Century's plastic reduction proposal received the highest vote of any environmental proposal in Amazon's* history.

Secured a commitment from The Coca-Cola Company (Coca-Cola)* to reduce its cumulative use of virgin plastic by 3 million metric tons by 2025, which is the equivalent of eliminating 200,000 plastic bottles per minute.

Secured a commitment from Archer-Daniels-Midland Company (ADM)* to strengthen its prior commitments to stopping deforestation. Pressed Bunge to strengthen the company's no-deforestation policy, earning record-breaking shareholder support. Bunge and ADM are two of the "Big 4" global agricultural commodity traders.

Engaged Duke Realty Corporation* resulting in its commitment to meet the greenhouse gas goals of the Paris Climate Agreement and joining the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi).

Pressed Verizon Communications, Inc.* to increase the amount of energy it sources from renewables. It had planned to go from 2% to just 4% by 2025. After our engagement, the company announced a new goal of 50% renewables by 2025. Verizon is now nearly two-thirds of the way to meeting this new target.

Pressed JPMorgan Chase* to adopt comprehensive no-deforestation policies for its financing activities, which helps protect endangered species and the ecosystems on which they and many other diverse species depend.

Engaged Hormel Foods Corporation (Hormel)* to improve its animal welfare practices and phase out gestation crates.

Secured a commitment from Darden Restaurants, Inc. (Darden),* the largest casual dining operator in the U.S., to phase out the routine use of medically important antibiotics in its chicken supply chain by 2023.

A sustainable investment strategy which incorporates environmental, social and governance criteria may result in lower or higher returns than an investment strategy that does not include such criteria.
