

GREEN CENTURY FUNDS

Green Century^o believes that even corporate sustainability leaders have room for improvement, which is why we pressure over 100 companies every year to adopt stronger environmental practices and policies throughout their operations and supply chains.

Shareholder Advocacy

The shareholder advocacy programs of many mutual fund companies consist solely of proxy voting or analyst conversations. Not Green Century.

While Green Century votes its proxies to support more sustainable corporate practices and reduce potential investment risks, Green Century's in-depth shareholder advocacy program goes well beyond proxy voting to deliver tangible results. Green Century pressures companies to adopt environmentally sustainable policies through direct engagement, global collaborations, and as a leader of investor groups.

Every year, Green Century also files numerous shareholder proposals, which are formal requests that a company take a specific action based on a business case. In 2021, Green Century:

- Filed more climate proposals than any other investment firm.
- Engaged more than 130 companies on a variety of issues, including tropical forest protection, clean energy, plastic pollution, and preserving biodiversity.

- Secured the highest vote of the season on any ESG shareholder proposal and the highest vote ever recorded for a deforestation shareholder proposal: an unprecedented 98.9% vote in favor of Green Century's proposal with the global grain trader Bunge Limited (Bunge).*

Our shareholder work won protection for Georgia's Okefenokee Wildlife Refuge from titanium mining.

Plastics

Secured a commitment from The Coca-Cola Company* in February to have 25% of its beverages distributed in refillable or reusable containers by 2030. This followed our first agreement in 2021 when the company announced plans to reduce its cumulative use of virgin plastic by 3 million metric tons – the equivalent of eliminating 200,000 plastic bottles per minute.

Climate change

Won a landmark shareholder vote at Costco's* annual meeting, with nearly 70% of shareholders voting for our proposal calling on the company to set science-based greenhouse gas emissions reduction targets covering its operations and supply chain.

Wildlife

Secured protection against mining near Georgia's Okefenokee National Wildlife Refuge from The Chemours Company*. In response to a shareholder proposal filed by Green Century on behalf of the Felician Sisters of North America, Chemours agreed that it would not mine titanium near this unique ecosystem nor buy titanium mined there, and committed to ensuring that the value of the Okefenokee is maintained.

Tropical Forest

Pressed Citigroup* to adopt improved policies to ensure that it is not financing activities that drive deforestation, thereby protecting vulnerable species and ecosystems.

Fossil Fuels

Won SEC rulings that allow our shareholder resolutions at Chubb*, Travelers*, and The Hartford* concerning underwriting new fossil fuel projects to move forward to a vote. We are pressing the corporations to stop providing insurance to new fossil fuel projects.

Factory Farming

Panera* committed to sourcing cage-free eggs after our successful engagement with the company several years ago and has completed the transition to 100% cage-free eggs on all of their salads and sandwiches.

A sustainable investment strategy which incorporates environmental, social and governance criteria may result in lower or higher returns than an investment strategy that does not include such criteria.
